CANTON MAN KILLED IN RT. 62 CRASH

One of Worst Weekends In Year Here; 7 Accidents
Checked by Patrol

Saturday and Sunday constituted one of the worst weekends for traffic accidents in this area for the entire year. According to state highway patrol reports, one person was killed and 19 injured in seven accidents.

Joseph George, 52, of R. D. 3, Canton, died at 8:15 p. m. Sunday at Salem City hospital from injuries received in an accident occurring at 11:25 a. m. Saturday.

An autopsy performed Sunday night on orders from County Coroner E. R. Sturgis, revealed that George died of injuries to the brain and lungs. George had suffered head lacerations and fractured ribs.

West of Town
The mishap happened on Route 62, 0.9 mile west of Salem. Two other persons were injured.

Two cars, driven by James Humphrey, 35, of New Castle, and Louis George, 17, of R. D. 3, Canton, were involved. The patrol said Humphrey passed a truck while going over a hill and hit the George car head-on.

Both cars were badly damaged.

Injured were Humphrey, who sustained abrasions of the right arm, leg and head and back injuries. Louis George had lacerations of the mouth and abrasions of the right knee. They were all brought to Salem City hospital.

Six injuries were recorded in a mishap at the intersection of Route 558 and the Upper Elkton road at 4:40 p. m. Sunday.

A car driven by Alvin Yoder, 61, of R. D. 1, Columbiana, did not stop at the intersection and drove onto 558, hitting the side of an auto driven by John J. Craig, 48, of East Liverpool.

The cars were badly damaged. Three were injured in each car. Jeanette Craig, 48, suffered lacerations of the scalp and possible fractured ribs. John W. Talbot, 58, of Newell had contusions and abrasions of the right leg and forehead and a sprained back. Mrs. Pearl Talbot, 58, of Newell sustained abrasions and lacerations of the thigh.

Three Yoders Injured
Alvin Yoder had lacerations of the forehead. Ada Yoder, 60, possible fracture of the left leg, and Lizzie Yoder, 58, lacerations of the face and possible fracture of the left shoulder.

The latter group were brought to Salem City hospital, while those in the Craig car were taken to East Liverpool City hospital.

Three persons, including a Salem girl, were hurt in a mishap on Route 45, 0.7 mile north of the intersection of Route 14 and 7, at 8:25 a. m. Sunday.

A car driven by Harley Culler, 25, of R. D. 5, Lisbon, was struck on the left side while making a left turn by another car.

5,198 Attend Salem News' Two-Day Open House

Our Sincere Thanks

ALTHOUGH he was unable to attend because of illness, Ralph W. Hawley, publisher of The Salem News, was delighted to learn how generously the public responded to the invitation to inspect the new newspaper plant over the weekend.

Ralph Hawley

From his bed in City hospital today he commented as follows:

"It was a great pleasure to learn that the people of Salem and surrounding territory took advantage of the opportunity to inspect our new plant Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

"The thousands who attended give inspiration to our organization to strive for better results in the future and to give our public an ever-expanding report of the activities of the home field as well as national and international affairs.

"I take this opportunity to join with the loyal members of our staff in expressing sincere thanks for the interest shown in our modern building and in extending a cordial welcome to all to make use of the facilities we have so amply provided."

TAFT FAVORS FRANCO SPAIN

Urges Speedy Return To Friendly Relations;
Not Asking Aid

BATAVIA, Sept. 26—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), who yesterday urged a speedy return to friendly relations with Spain, resumes his 100-day tour of Ohio here today.

The senator's three-day itinerary will take him into Clermont, Brown, Adams, Scioto and Lawrence counties.

Taft, who heads the senate's Republican policy committee, said in Washington yesterday he thinks Spain ought to be invited into the community of nations prepared to fight any advances of Communism.

He added that such a gesture toward Spain would be a step in strengthening North Atlantic defenses against a possible Soviet attack.

"There is great strategic value in having the friendship of Spain," Taft said. "She is in a key military position to far as Europe is concerned. There is no reason why we shouldn't recognize her fully in a diplomatic way and send an ambassador to Madrid."

Not Urging Aid

Taft, who spoke to an Associated Press reporter before he left for Ohio, said he isn't proposing any military aid be advanced to Spain.

He contended, in fact, the foreign arms assistance slated for North Atlantic treaty nations under a pending bill passed by the senate last week may be largely wasted because of Russia's development of atomic weapons.

Taft will be in Portsmouth Tuesday night for a dinner address and an open meeting in the Portsmouth High school at 8:15. He will confer with farm groups Wednesday morning and visit industrial plants.

The senator will drive to Ashland, Ky., Wednesday night to entrain for Washington.

Investigation Ends

LISBON, Sept. 26—The Columbiana county grand jury reported to the court this morning, concluding four and a half days investigation. The jury examined 96 witnesses in 28 cases, returning 18 indictments against 20 defendants. Ten cases were ignored.

Salem area residents gave The Salem News a real housewarming during the public open house inspection of the new building on N. Lincoln ave. Saturday and Sunday.

A total of 5,198 persons streamed steadily through the new, modern publishing plant during the afternoon and evening hours, apparently thrilled, not only by the beauty of the building itself, but by the "behind-the-scenes" mechanics of publishing a daily newspaper.

They learned, first-hand, how the news of the day flows speedily from the copy reader's desks in the editorial room to the composing room where it is assembled in type form, and then to the stereotype and pressroom where the high-speed Duplex tubular press turned out finished copies at the rate of 22,500 an hour.

A total of 2,435 people toured the flower-bedecked News building on Saturday, while Sunday visitors totaled 2,763. Souvenir booklets entitled, "The Story Behind Your Newspaper," were distributed to each guest.

The general inspection followed impressive dedication ceremonies at noon on Saturday.

The late Louis H. Brush, for whom the building stands as a lasting tribute, was honored in memory by fellow citizens and close friends who through the years knew him as the genial and energetic publisher.

In every respect it is the building Mr. Brush cherished in his imagination, the building for which he broke ground in the spring of 1948, but which he did not live to see in completion. He died suddenly June 24, 1948, while attending the Republican national convention in Philadelphia.

Mr. Brush Eulogized

Opening the dedication ceremonies in The News' spacious business office, William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, secretary-treasurer of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., said:

"More than a half century ago a young man, Louis H. Brush, left his home at Mt. Union college where both his parents had been members of the faculty for many years. He came to Salem and immediately joined The Salem News.

"It was his pride and joy to have worked at The Salem News. He later became associated with a number of other newspapers. Throughout his life he was the same Louis H. Brush. No man or woman ever knew him without being the better for knowing him. He brought a feeling of warmth whenever he spoke. Roy Moore and I have been closely associated with him in business. We are proud of that fact.

"Mr. Brush planned this building. It had been his hope for years to see it constructed. With his friends, he is still here. Today we dedicate this building to his memory."

Plaque Unveiled

Mr. Vodrey then introduced Mr. Brush's grandson, Thomas Stewart Brush, a former member of the News' staff now residing at New Haven, Conn., and the latter unveiled a bronze plaque, saying as he did so:

"I appreciate very much that the directors of Brush-Moore Newspapers have wanted to recognize my grandfather in this way. It means a very great deal to my grandmother and to me and I am very proud that they have asked me to unveil this plaque."

He read the plaque's inscription, as follows:

"Louis H. Brush. Born 1872. Died 1948. A newspaperman who devoted fifty-four years of service to this community. From his early start as manager of The Salem News, he became publisher of the newspaper when he was twenty-five, then went on to serve as president and later as chairman of Brush-Moore Newspapers. His ever-widening influence made him the counsellor and friend of countless scores throughout Ohio and in distant parts of the United States... yet his deepest loyalty ever remained for Salem and The News."

The visitors then gathered on the pressroom floor of the building where it had been hoped Mrs. Louis H. Brush would touch the electric button to officially set this new printing mechanism in motion. Mrs. Brush was unable to be present, because of illness which confined her to her home. The press was started, in accord with Mrs. Brush's request, by no settlement is reached at 3 p. m., union representatives said they would begin calling men out of Ohio Edison properties here, at Youngstown and at the Ohio river power plant in Toronto.

The strike had been set for 6 p. m. Sunday, but a 24-hour postponement was won through intercession of mayors of Akron, Youngstown, Barberton and Cuyahoga Falls.

But 12 hours of almost continuous discussion broke up last night in an atmosphere of pessimism. Said Mayor Charles E. Slusser of Akron:

Sees No Progress
"I cannot see that any progress has been made."

In fact, the last-minute truce almost blew up when the union learned that Ohio Edison had sent a number of supervisory employees by taxicab to the Gorge tation here. Only after assurance all these men were removed, did William Munger, vice president of the national utility workers, agree to allow the one-day postponement to stand.

Supervisory employees will be used by Ohio Edison to keep service going as long as possible in event of a strike by the unionists who are employed as power house operators, switchboard men, meter readers, line construction gangs and maintenance crews.

Any serious power failure during a strike soon would be felt by Ohio Edison consumers who include residents of Akron, Youngstown, Kent, Ravenna, Medina, Barberton, Cuyahoga Falls, Salem, Lisbon, Struthers, Andover, and smaller communities and rural districts near those cities.

At issue in the company-union dispute are the union's demands for work scheduling, a five-cent hourly minimum raises on undisclosed pay scales, sick leave and vacations. In Youngstown, where about 400 of the unionists are employed, the utilities workers had an agreement that the company could not change work schedules either for emergency or to avoid paying overtime. The union wants similar work scheduling at the Toronto power station and in the plants here.

The union took a strike vote Sept. 2, but delayed announcing the result until 11 days later. The last company-union agreement to expire was at Youngstown, Aug. 20. Federal mediators have been at work for several weeks to promote agreement.

It's Different Now

Every word and gesture of every Russian spokesman will be studied for evidence that the Soviet Union's ability to manufacture atomic bombs has made a difference in its official policy. It can't be doubted that possession of such knowledge would make a vast difference in official thinking. The question is whether this difference will be reflected in international relations and what form it will take.

There are two chief possibilities. One is that the Kremlin, no longer uncomfortable because it lacks the knowledge which made it possible for the United States to produce atomic bombs in 1945, may assert its new confidence in greater belligerency. The other is that the Kremlin, now may assert its new confidence by seeking a modus vivendi with the United States.

A few days after the first atomic bomb was dropped Aug. 9, 1945, President Truman proposed a modus vivendi with all other nations. "The atomic bomb is too dangerous to be loose in a lawless world," he said. "That is why Great Britain and the United States, who have the secret have been found to control the bomb so as to protect ourselves and the rest of the world from the danger of total destruction."

A variety of suggestions for atomic control followed promptly. The United States, the only nation which stood to lose any advantage, took a forthright position in favor of sharing atomic secrets under the terms of an enforceable plan of international control to prevent military exploitation. This was possibly the most high-minded attitude ever taken on a matter of prime military importance. But it was flatly rejected by Russia.

The Kremlin's spokesmen refused to consider any proposal which did not include, first, destruction of all atom bombs then in existence, then the banning by international law of the use of atomic bombs and, provided that were done, the setting up of a system which would leave Russia free to do what it pleased. There was to be, in other words, no surrender of Russian dictatorial authority under any circumstances, though the United States was ready to sacrifice a substantial share of its national sovereignty. All negotiations were shattered by this kind of obstructionism. It was plain that the Kremlin wanted them shattered; that it wanted no atomic controls until it had atom bombs of its own.

The Kremlin now is in a position to accept its own proposal. It has bombs of its own. Let there be destruction of all atomic bombs now in existence. Let atomic warfare be banned by international law. Let there be a system of atomic control which will guarantee absolutely that no one nation can steal a march on any other nation.

If the Kremlin wanted to set off an explosion that would rock the world it would accept its own proposal and ask for international negotiations to be begun in good faith to prove it is just as eager in 1949 to share atomic knowledge as the United States was when it held a monopoly on the atom bomb in 1945.

Danger Spots

Few of the tensions between management and the unions can be blamed on disagreements about wages. They are a minor issue in current bargaining.

At the present rate of multiplication, there soon will be so many danger spots in labor-management relations that no one will be able to clarify them. What used to be primarily a problem of wage, with occasional excursions into conditions of employment other than wages, will be an endless succession of problems about insurance, policies, pension systems, interpretations of murky phraseology in complicated laws, quibbles over rights and a banker's dozen of issues which formerly had no place in bargaining. It used to be for the express purpose of reaching an agreement about wages. Today it may be for the purpose of clinching a point in politics, teaching a lesson to someone who has challenged authority, influencing the outcome of a struggle for control of a union, grinding an ax in the international clash of ideologies, or serving the grand strategy of inter-union stress and strain. It may also be about wages, but that relatively simple issue now is secondary. Wages are what bargainers talk about to fill in the spaces between the transactions of the more complicated issues which now preoccupy bargainers.

It looked for awhile as though Trygve Lie would have to appear in a Bikini bathing suit to draw an audience to his world stadium while this World's Series race is on but this will do it.

When Mr. Acheson tried to settle the Greek civil war, Brooklyn-St. Louis and New York-Boston all responded "later Bud . . . we've got battles of our own."

Why a fellow down in Tennessee had his 25th child the other day and only got two paragraphs in the papers because there isn't a pitcher in the lot.

But when Vishinsky arrived here smilingly we should have known that something unpleasant would happen.

Well now they've got it . . . The next question is will they keep it?

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

ONE of the discomforts which comes with advancing years is pain in the legs, particularly after walking. Some middle-aged and elderly people are so tormented with this symptom that they are unable to walk for more than a block or so, and cannot sleep because of pain.

The condition is due to the fact that the tissues of the leg do not get their proper blood supply, either because of hardening of the arteries or because of repeated spasm in these blood vessels.

Recently it has been treated with great benefit in about 85 out of 100 patients by using a substance known as histamine. This is a substance normally found in small amounts in the body. Large amounts of it seem to be produced during allergic attacks.

The histamine is given by allowing it to flow slowly into the large femoral artery. Between two and five drops of the solution are allowed to run in with each beat of the heart.

When the treatment is successful, a redness appears over the thigh, spreading to the knee, to the back and front of the leg and, finally, to the feet. Any pale areas in the skin indicate the location of large blood vessels through which the blood is not flowing satisfactorily.

Redness Appears

If the solution is allowed to flow in too fast, redness appears on the upper part of the body.

One of the best things about this new treatment is that its effects can be estimated in advance on the basis of one trial infusion of histamine. If this brings about an increase in the temperature of the skin over the calf of the leg, further treatments will usually relieve pain.

At first the treatments are given once or twice a week. When the patient reaches the point he can walk about 10 blocks without pain, the treatments are cut to one a month. When he can walk about two miles without pain, the treatment is stopped.

Of course, the treatment with histamine must be carried out by the physician who is familiar with the method, as the preparation must be allowed to flow in only at the right speed and with the right amount of pressure in order to prevent undue reactions. However, it seems that this treatment is not too difficult to employ and, in view of the relief which it affords, would seem to be worth while.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. J.: What is the cause of edema?

Answer: Edema means that an excessive amount of fluid has beer, retained in the tissues. This may occur as a result of either kidney or heart disease, as well as other local conditions.

Edema is a symptom of a disease. Before treatment for it can be given, the cause must be discovered. After a careful examination by the doctor, proper treatment may be started.

The Nation Today

By JACK ADAMS
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 —

(AP)—The television hearings opening here today mean that changes are in the making in this newest field of popular entertainment.

But don't expect anything to happen suddenly—or even anytime soon—as a result of the Federal Communications commission's latest study of the subject.

Television just now presents a package much too complex for any quick handling, by either government or industry.

In other words, if you are thinking in terms of "color by Christmas," forget it.

In all the legalistic discussion that will go on before the FCC during the next few weeks, the important thing to remember is this:

The television set you now have or may be thinking of buying from your local store will always be able to tune in just what it is tuning in now, until it wears out.

If the FCC makes the changes it is now considering, you can buy some gadgets for these present sets to get in on whatever may be added to the television system.

The hearings will deal principally with these three things:

1. More channels, designed to open local television outlets in more towns.

2. Revised engineering standards for the video broadcasters.

3. Color television.

Under the first heading, 42 new channels are proposed in the "ultra high frequencies", to be added to the present 12 channels in the "very high frequencies."

Most present sets are tooled for VHR only. If your town gets a UHF channel and you want to tune in on it, you will need a "converter". The experts think they can be produced at relatively low cost—say, $15 to $18.

Item two deals mainly with the technical question of how far apart video broadcasting towers should be located for improved reception.

In its probe into the final item, FCC will look over a half dozen proposals for color televising, to find out if any of them are ripe for regular operation.

Under present plans, if color should be authorized the programs would be available to present set owners who could tune them in in black-and-white. By hooking an "adapter" to the present set, they could get color.

Radio people say that even if things move along at a fast clip, it would hardly be possible for any UHF station to get on the air during 1950. And the Radio Manufacturers' association has told FCC that color television for the general public is probably "several years" away.

SENATORS BAND TO CUT RAISES

Move To Slice Increase Proposed For Cabinet And Civilians

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—About 30 Senators lined up Friday behind a move to slice the pay increases being proposed for cabinet members and civilian workers who get $5,000 or more yearly from the government.

But the same group, along with most of their colleagues, seemed likely to support a companion measure to hike the pay of the armed forces about $348,000,000 yearly.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, brought the latter measure before the Senate amid signs of only scattered opposition. It provides boosts for most ranks from private to major general.

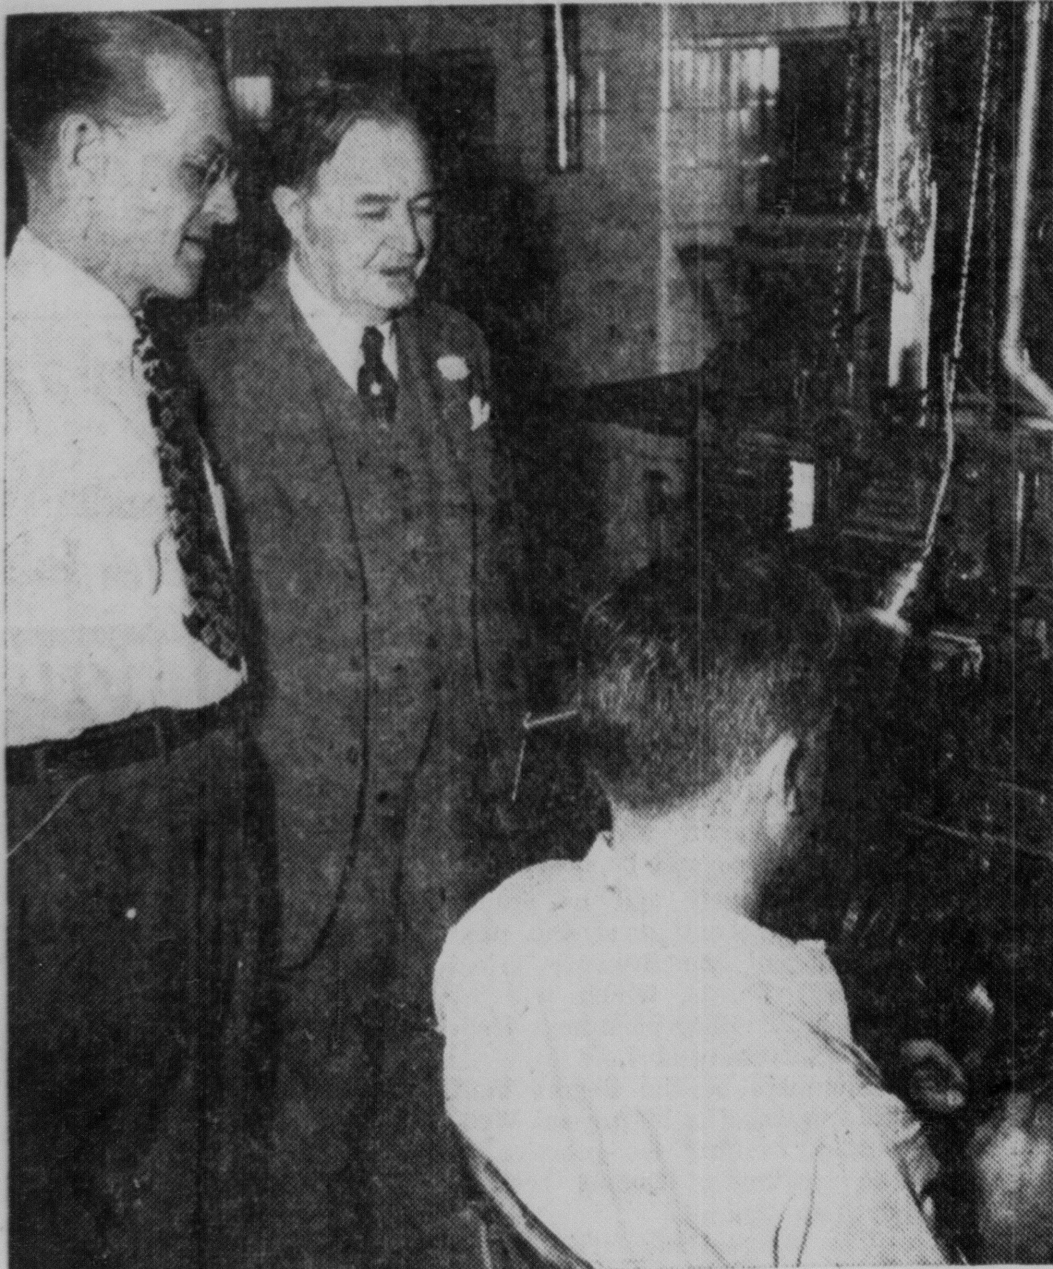

Senator Byrd (D-Vt.), who has been talking for months about trying to save some federal money, told reporters he would make a short statement against the bill but won't lead any fight on it.

It was a different story, however, that senators told about two other pay bills Lucas said will be brought up as soon as the Senate acts on the military measure.

Sensors McFarland (D-Ariz) and Cain (R-Wash) led a bipartisan move to send one of these, raising the salaries of cabinet members and other executives, to the Senate expenditures committee for a check on how it conforms to the pattern laid down by the Hoover commission on government reorganization.

That would mean no pay boosts for the cabinet in this session of Congress. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said the expenditures group can't possibly complete any such study before Congress quits for the year.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter he will oppose boost in cabinet pay because of unsettled economic conditions and the effect such increases might have on industrial wage negotiations.

Paul J. White, foreman of The News composing room, and John D. Raridan, executive editor of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., watch Joseph Volpe at one of the new Model 29 Linotype.

Fred C. Blattert, press supervisor of Brush-Moore Newspapers, and James Jackson, press foreman at The News, watch the Duplex Tubular press in action.

Cab Driver Airs N. Y. Street Gripe

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Coming to New York?

Fly here, then. Or take a train or bus. But don't drive.

The streets of midtown Manhattan are torn up like the straw in the bottom of a puppy's kennel, and the odds in favor of your landing in the bottom of an excavation are at least six to one.

This is the stern counsel of William J. (Boxer) Sheridan, taxi-driver, Brooklyn booster and firm believer that the city fathers are in a conspiracy to make life difficult for cabbies. Especially for Boxer.

"Look it," he sneered, waving an arm at 42nd street. "Steam shovels. Rollers. Sidewalk superintendents. This is the biggest yokel town in America. Only here they don't roll up the sidewalks. They tear up the pavements.

"On Columbus Circle it's worse—if there could be such a thing. Also Fifty-first between Broadway and Eighth. To say nuttin' of Fifty-third between Park and Madison. Traffic? Who calls it traffic any more? It's a funeral procession."

Boxer told only part of the story. New York's street-repair spree also has sections of 26th and 39th streets in shreds and is lapping at the gutters of 72nd street.

But 42nd street of song and story is the big job—$338,000 worth of resurfacing, car-track removal and traffic confusion beyond belief. It won't be over until Christmas time, either.

Only the sidewalk superintendents love it. They stand for hours, happily sniffing the fresh asphalt smell, letting the rat-tat-tat din of compressed air hammers shake their brains loose.

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business.

For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced.

But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself:

How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features?

How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes?

Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match.

This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic, yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.

The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflo Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.

So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit?

Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices.

You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.

Tell's Scientist' Fears Of Possible Atomic War

Scientists often have speculated on the dreadful fate that awaits the world on the day two nations go to war armed with atomic bombs. In the following dispatch a United Press science writer tells some of the fears that scientists have held ever since the United States dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan.

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—An atomic war might last only a matter of days—perhaps less.

In that short time, the nation which struck first might well knock out most of the other's industrial areas, killing and maiming persons not by the thousands but by the millions.

Cities in the defeated land might not be safe for human habitation for a long period. Those are some of the fears that the A-bomb scientists have. There are others who fear even that the world would be destroyed.

Not Sure Yet

Because medical science has not yet learned how to treat radiation sickness; sickness brought on by the heat of tens of thousands of suns and invisible bullets of atomic energy released when a bomb goes off—the casualty tolls would be catastrophic. There might not be enough doctors and nurses left to care for the injured.

Atomic scientists, silenced by the strict security regulations, have been reluctant to discuss how many A-bombs it would take to "knock out" the United States or Russia. However, some who have not been connected with the atom bomb projects in this country, have stated that it would take at least 20 bombs of the power that this country used on Japan to paralyze a large segment of America's war industries.

This country's first two bombs—the one that obliterated Hiroshima and the other that leveled Nagasaki—cost about $2,000,000. The cost of a bomb does not run that high for this country now because the costly ground work has been completed. Nowadays it is only a matter of production and improving the quality of the bombs. President Truman in his announcement today did not say that the Russians had an atom bomb. The fact is however that they have succeeded in making an atomic explosion—which certainly would be a major step toward making the final product. There is a possibility that the Soviet explosion might have resulted from an experiment and some of the Soviet's top scientists have been killed.

As far as knocking out Russia with A-bombs, it might take more than the number needed to lay this country prostrate. Little is known of Russia's war-making industries since the end of the war.

Action Is Taken Against Penn. R. R.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A protest was filed today with the State Public Utilities commission against the action of the Pennsylvania railroad in cutting off commuter service on Saturdays on the "Dan Hanna" special running between Alliance and Cleveland.

The protest, signed by 19 commuters, said there has been no corresponding reduction in the price of monthly tickets since the train was taken off on Sept. 5. The railroad discontinued the train because of the almost universal five-day week which, it said, had cut down the number of Saturday commuters.

The protest also declared that many of the commuters are not on the five-day week and must report for work in Cleveland on Saturday at the same time as other week days.

The "Dan Hanna" now leaves Alliance five days a week at 6:10 a. m., arriving in Cleveland at 7:50 a. m. In the evening, it leaves Cleveland at 5:25, arriving in Alliance at 7:10 p. m. There are seven intermediate stations. The railroad has 15 days to answer the complaint, after which the commission will decide whether it will set the case down for hearing.

Agriculture Department Attacks Cholera Spread

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Unusually heavy losses from hog cholera this summer in the mid-west have spurred an intensified attack on the disease by Agriculture department researchers. "This year's trouble," says Dr.

B. T. Simms, chief, Bureau of Animal Industry, "has indicated the need for special investigation beyond any ever carried out previously by this department." His staff, Simms told a reporter, must make a more vigorous attack on the disease, adding: "We must further our study of hog cholera and methods of preventing it. We must produce better viruses and better methods of preserving it." An outbreak of the disease struck portions of several mid-western states, and particularly sections of Iowa, in late June and July.

Until you've experienced the silent, gliding restfulness of this roomy Packard—you're just not up-to-date on fine car comforts!

Packard calls it the "Limousine Ride," because many of its advancements were first developed for the magnificent Packard Limousine. But the first and foremost secret of its superiority lies in Packard's advanced "self-controlling" suspension system. "Self-controlling" means it compensates automatically for changes in load and road. "Self-controlling" means it combines relaxing smoothness with firm, level-keeled roadability. "Self-controlling" means it won't develop "baby-buggy bounce" in its later years!

Veterans Told Building Trade Prospects Good

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Labor Department said today employment prospects are bright in most of the building trades.

In a pamphlet prepared for the Veterans' Administration the department said former G. I.'s are safe in learning the trades. It said the danger that building skills will become obsolete is "so slight it can be ignored."

The department conceded that long-range prospects for a few of the trades — notably painting, paper-hanging and boiler-making — are slightly gloomy.

But the outlook is good on the whole, especially for plumbers, pipefitters, electricians, sheet metal workers and elevator construction workers.

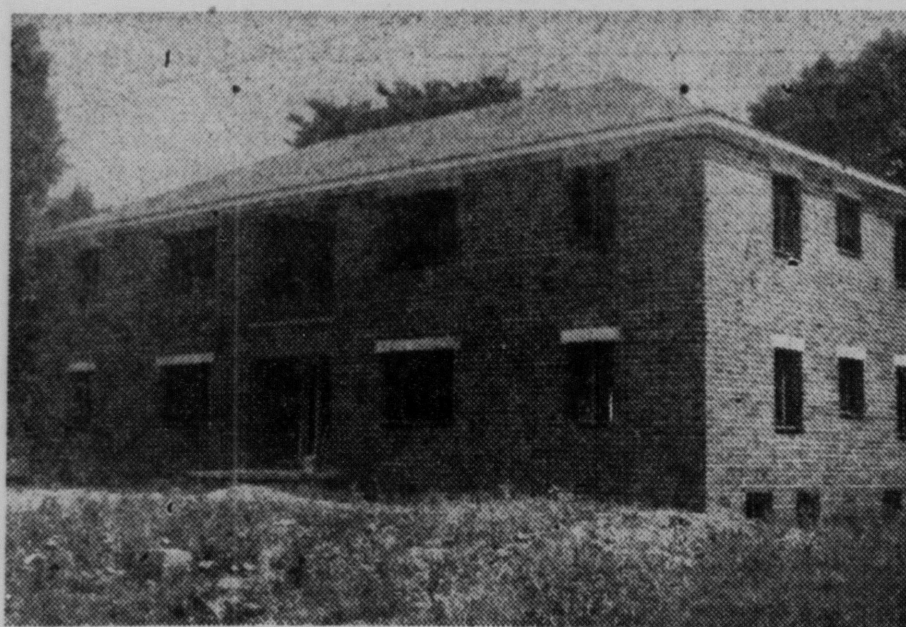

On the other hand the report warned veterans that construction is more dependent on general business activity than any other major industry. In a depression unemployment in the trades would be high.

The pamphlet noted also that seasonal layoffs are a problem. In another report today, the Labor Department said construction during August was on the rise in most parts of the country. It said contractors employed 54,000 more workers last month than in July, making a total of 2,333,000 employed in the industry.

That was the highest employment level the industry has reached this year, the department said, although the figure was 50,000 short of the postwar peak recorded in August, 1948.

On the other hand the report warned veterans that construction is more dependent on general business activity than any other major industry. In a depression unemployment in the trades would be high.

APARTMENT BUILDER STRESSES FIRE AND SOUND PROOFING

Sound-proofing and fire protection are being stressed in the construction of the new apartment building at the corner of E. Seventh st. and Howard ave. This is being accomplished with the dry wall-textile materials used both on the exterior and in a wall which extends from front to rear in the center of the building. There are two apartments up and two down. A separate suspended ceiling is being constructed above the first floor for better sound proofing.

The building is 32 feet by 61 feet and contains apartments which are 28 feet by 32 feet. A large hallway is inside the center entrance to the building. The entrance exterior will be lined with glass brick. Each apartment has an outside entrance at the rear of the building for further fire protection.

In each apartment are five rooms including kitchen-dinette, two bedrooms, living room and a bath. The rooms are heated by individual gravity gas heaters. The hot water system will be used by all four families.

Steel casement windows with marble window sills and pine wood trim are used throughout the building. Oak floors will be laid except in the bath and kitchen where linoleum will be used.

Each apartment is individually wired with switch panels inside the apartment. They are wired, and have gas connections so either gas or electric stoves may be used. The kitchens will have tailored wood cabinets and sinks with covered shelves and refrigerator space. Steel sliding doors are used for the closets to increase usable room space.

The basement is lined with concrete block and contains a laundry room and outside entrance. An incinerator will be installed in the basement.

J. E. Henderson, builder and owner, expects the building to be ready for occupancy early in 1950 and estimates the cost to be in the $35,000 bracket.

Building Takes Third Of Aluminum Output

America's construction industry is consuming about one third of the aluminum produced today.

One of the chief utilizations of the light metal by the construction world is for house siding. Several reasons account for the rapid growth in this use.

Aluminum has the unique quality of reflecting 95% of the sun's heat rays, establishing it as an insulating material of high merit. As insulation in winter it keeps homes warmer, cutting house heating costs, and in summer, by reflecting heat rays away from the house, it helps to keep the home cooler. Aluminum is impervious to rust, termites, fire, water and light.

Prepainting of siding with baked enamel is possible with aluminum, and it results in a house finish that does not darken in the presence of industrial gases, according to Jerome J. Kaufman, president of Alsie, Inc., of Akron, said to be the nation's largest producers of aluminum siding.

Laboratory tests prove that such coatings on the light metal do not crack, chip or blister in any kind of weather, he said. Panels subjected to a 20% salt spray at 95 degrees Fahrenheit for 2,000 hours — a tough test — show no signs of loss of adhesion or blistering of the paint.

Gives Rules For Good Chimneys

By PAUL T. HAAGEN, Noted Architect of Small Homes

The chimney and flue of your heating plant or fireplace is so important from the standpoint of its draft and the efficient operation of the plant itself that it is essential when building your house that the proper flue size and height of the chimney be definitely determined by some one who knows the requirements and how to estimate the sizes.

Flue sizes and chimney heights are a matter of engineering design that must be accurately determined by local conditions, type of equipment, etc. So seek out in your town a man who knows the required size for your chimney. He may be a builder, the dealer that installs your heating plant, or a heating engineer.

A dirty chimney does not draw well, and it is important to keep the chimneys well cleaned and all joints in the masonry that may have opened up should be re-pointed and completely sealed with mortar.

Inspect the chimney caps, because if there is a broken cap the water is likely to seep through the crack into the brickwork below and when the frost comes, freezing will take place and the brickwork be damaged.

A crooked chimney is not good, for chimneys should be as straight as possible, and if there is a necessity to offset the chimney, the slope or slant should be quite gradual.

All chimneys are better if lined with a terra cotta flue lining of the proper size of which there are several standard dimensions.

A clean-out door at the bottom of the flue is recommended. It should be placed just above the basement floor, or if there is no basement, above the grade, so it may be reached from the outside and soot easily removed.

It is better to have one flue serve only one heating device. Two or three openings on one flue destroy the draft and where a hot water heater or fireplace is used, it is best to have a separate flue for each.

Chimneys that are built within a house seem to draw better and a certain amount of heat is given off through the brickwork of the chimney throwing some heat into the house. Where the chimney is placed on an outside wall, the draft is not always so good and some heat is lost.

To summarize: line the chimney with flue lining. Keep the flue as straight as possible; have the flue the proper size to secure a good draft and carry off the smoke. All chimneys should extend well above all trees or adjacent buildings to avoid down-drafts.

Use Gloves With Mortar

Handle lime, plaster, mortar and cement and concrete with gloves if it seems to dry your hands too much — cotton, leather or rubber, depending on your skin sensitivity. It is the alkali in these substances that dries out your skin. After doing a job with these materials, run lanolin on your hands or any of the hand lotions.

Boston-Yankees Battle Out Tie Today; Yawkey Palooks Remark Cited

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Tom Yawkey, million-dollar owner of the Boston Red Sox, said, "those darn Palooks of mine are going to be the American league champs," everyone thought it was a good crack.

Well, those Palooks are tied with the New York Yankees for first place in the American league today, a position they expect to better by nightfall.

Lefty Mel Parnell pitched the rumpaging Red Sox into a 'flat-footed' yesterday as he downed the Yanks, 4-1, with a neat four-hitter before a howling mob of 35,517 fans at Boston.

The Red Sox take on the Yanks in the stadium today with Lefty Maurice McDermott (5-4) scheduled to go for the Palooks against New York's Tommy Byrne (15-7).

A triumph for either party would just about settle the issue. Following today's battle both teams will have five games left to play including two at the New York park next Saturday and Sunday. In between meetings the Red Sox play three games with last place Washington and the Yanks three with the pesky fifth place Philadelphia Athletics.

While the Red Sox stiffened the Yanks yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals zoomed into a commanding one and one-half game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league race. The Cards beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-1, while the Philadelphia Phils slit the Dodgers 5-3.

St. Louis and Brooklyn, marking time today, have five and four games left to play, respectively. The Cards have three dates with the last place Cubs and two with sixth place Pittsburgh. The Dodgers have two meetings with the Phils and two with Boston.

Should the Cards win only three of their remaining five games it would assure them of no worse than a tie, providing Brooklyn takes all four of its games. Four Cardinal victories and that old chant of "wait until next year" will be revived in the borough where the famous tree sprouts.

Parnell's triumph was his 25th of the season against seven defeats. It also was Boston's ninth straight and their 21st consecutive at home. Parnell and Kinder, who has won 23 games, have accounted for more than half of Boston's 95 victories.

Allie Reynolds pitched well for the Yanks but not good enough. The Sox reached Reynolds for two runs in the second when Johnny Pesky singled with two out and the bases loaded. Parnell kept the rally alive with a two down single.

Reynolds hung on gamely until the seventh when Ted Williams ended the Yankee hopes with a 400-foot homer, his 43rd, into the rightfield seats. Johnny Pesky preceded Williams' lone hit of the game with his third hit.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen tamed the Cubs on six hits and collected four of the Cards' 12 safeties. The crafty lefthander batted in three runs and was only ruffled in the fourth when Rookie Bill Serena homered.

Ralph Branca started for Brooklyn and pitched seven brilliant innings. Branca allowed only five hits and fanned nine but a blister forced him out of action.

Jack Banta took over and the Phils quickly went to town. Phils Ashburn beat out a bunt and raced to third on Gran Hamner's double. Dick Sisler singled but runners home to tie the score at 3-3. Del Ennis popped out attempting to bunt. Seminick, hitless in three previous swings, then whaled Banta's first pitch out of sight to break up the game.

In other National league games the New York Giants downed the Boston Braves, 3-2 and 5-2 and the Pittsburgh Pirates clipped the Cincinnati Reds, 7-3, and 5-3.

Bob Lemon turned in his 21st victory for Cleveland as he pitched the Indians to a 7-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers. In other American league games the Philadelphia Athletics beat Washington, 8-5, then bowed, 4-0, to Dick Weik of the Senators in the seven inning finale. The Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 7-5, and then lost, 6-2 to the Browns.

Should the Cards win only three of their remaining five games it would assure them of no worse than a tie, providing Brooklyn takes all four of its games. Four Cardinal victories and that old chant of "wait until next year" will be revived in the borough where the famous tree sprouts.

College's 1-2 Punch Teams Move To West Coast

Michigan, Notre Dame Trek West

After Impressive Starts The Nation's Best Must Travel This Week

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Michigan and Notre Dame, college football's fearsome one-two punch, move to the Pacific coast this week to find out if the far westerners really are on the rebound.

The top-ranked Wolverines go against Stanford, one of the coast's surprise "Big Three" of the young season. The Fighting Irish invade for a tiff with Washington.

The sun-baked Pacific athletes, who have been easy intersectional pickings since the war, showed a lot of grit and gristle Saturday in scoring three important victories.

This brought rise to talk that perhaps the coast is ready to reclaim its old position of gridiron might.

Stanford rolled over Harvard, no giant but a fairly good eastern eleven, 44-0. Southern California jarred a Navy team of great expectations, 42-20. U. C. L. A. won its second straight game with an intersectional triumph over Iowa, 41-25.

The west's strong upsurge shared the limelight with a typical show of strength by Notre Dame, a matching performance by Oklahoma and a tight squeeze for Michigan.

The Irish, with Emil Sitko furnishing most of the locomotion, swamped Indiana, 49-6. Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champions sounded a warning that they may be strong contenders for national honors by smothering Boston College, 46-0.

The resourceful Michigan Wolverines, playing before nearly 100,000 in their giant Ann Arbor stadium, barely edged Michigan, 7-3.

But this was the case also last year when the Wolverines had a tough afternoon with their intrastate rivals but went on to rack up another perfect season.

Michigan now has 24 straight victories for the longest skein in major college football.

Texas, Duke, Northwestern, Tulane and California are powers that came through as expected, plus some.

The big disappointments were Penn State, one of last year's eastern powers, and Vanderbilt, which had been expected to challenge for Dixie honors.

A light, fast Georgia Tech socked Vanderbilt, 12-7, while Penn State fell before Villanova, 27-6.

Texas handed Temple the worst defeat in the Philadelphia institution's history, 54-0. Duke had a picnic with Little Richmond, 67-0. Northwestern, the Rose Bowl champions, turned back Purdue, 28-14. California won over St. Mary's, 29-7.

The season, off to a quick start, picks up more momentum with a schedule this week-end that resembles November wrangling.

Besides the two big intersectional games, the far west offers Washington State at Southern Cal., California at Oregon State and Oregon at U. C. L. A.

The south bids for notice with Duke at Tennessee, Georgia at North Carolina, Georgia Tech at Tulane and Rice at Louisiana State.

Mid-west features are Pittsburgh at Northwestern, Iowa at Purdue and Wisconsin at Illinois. Army, an easy winner over Davidson in its opener, plays Penn State, Harvard takes on Columbia and Princeton invades Navy in the East's top games.

Champion Tourney Set YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 26—(INS)—Tippecanoe country club in Youngstown will hold its "champion of champions" golf tourney Oct. 9.

Youngstown district title holders—including Salem, Warren, Girard, Niles, Hubbard, Sharon, Pa., and New Castle, Pa.—are eligible. Pros, men's and women's champions and caddy title holders may compete in four divisions. Winners of some nine other tourneys qualify for the men's division.

Attendance Amazes Veeck; Victory Over Detroit Brings 3rd Hopes

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26—(AP)—For the second year in a row, the Cleveland Indians' home attendance has passed 2,200,000; but indications are the New York Yankees will have a bigger home gate than the Tribe this season.

The 33,977 paying customers who turned out at Lakefront stadium yesterday for the Indians' 7-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers raised the season total here to 2,233,871, compared to last year's all-time major league record of 2,620,627.

The Yanks have 2,083,062 with six big home games remaining. To Bill Veeck, who saw a Cleveland attendance of 1,057,289 in 1946, when he first came, and of 1,521,978 in 1947, his first full year of operation as president, this season's home attendance is "even more remarkable than last year's."

Last year, he points out, there was a red hot pennant race all the way. This year the Tribe was off to a poor start, and hasn't been in this month's pennant scrapping at all.

If the Indians can take three straight from the Chicago White Sox Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Chicago, they'll have a chance to play for the third-place spot in next week-end's three-game series at Detroit.

Bob Lemon's five-hit triumph yesterday cut Detroit's third-place margin to 2½ games. It was Lemon's 21st victory against 10 defeats and marked the first time in three seasons that a Cleveland pitcher has won more than 20 games. Bob himself had 20-14 last year.

Lemon struck out seven batters in the first three innings and went on to whiff four more to total 11 strikeouts—a new high for Cleveland pitching in 1949. Ellis Kinder of Boston's Red Sox has the major league top mark of 15 for this campaign so far.

A pair of walks and a single, plus a long fly, brought a Detroit run in the fourth inning to spoil Lemon's bid for a shutout.

Cleveland peeked away at Art Houtteman for a pair of runs in the second and another in the seventh, then cut loose with a four-run rally in the eighth, featuring a bases-loaded single by Bob Kennedy.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26—(AP)—Wobbly legged Charley Lupica swore off flagpole sitting today and luxuriated in an honest-to-goodness bed.

What's more, after his World Champion squat of 117 days, two hours and 25 minutes, Lupica sighed:

"Now I'm going to rest for two weeks before going back to work. This is not the end of things for me. It's the beginning. It gives me a new start in life."

The 37-year-old Lupica made his historic descent yesterday before 33,977 fans at Cleveland stadium. His ankles were sore. He was tired. But his eyes were moist as he teetered toward his wife, Augustine, and their four children at home plate.

Charley found out that flag pole sitting can be profitable, even when you lose. He had vowed to stay aloft on his perch over his delicatessen until the Indians reached first place.

He guessed wrong but managed to shatter the old pole sitting mark of 72 days. The Tribe gave him these presents, anyway, at the ceremony:

A new Pontiac sedan; bicycles for daughters Margaret, 6, and Nicolette, 10; a tricycle for son Carl, 8; a stroller for Charley, Jr., one month.

A radio; a stove; an old-fashioned bath tub; a four poster bed; a dog for Carl; and a 50-foot flagpole.

To all this, Mrs. Lupica could only say: "Oh, my goodness. This sure is something. I'm glad it's all over for Charley. Aren't you, Charley?"

All-America Pros May Have Answer: League Is Now Balanced Well

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—The All-America Football conference may finally have found the formula for combating its arch rival, the National league. It is balance.

The first two years, Cleveland and New York dominated the two-division league. Last year, as usual, Cleveland won in the west but Buffalo edged in as eastern titlists.

The Browns proceeded to annihilate Buffalo in the playoffs for their third straight championship. It had become mere routine.

Today the Clevelanders again top the new one-division setup, but it's been a tortuous climb and the future seems rocky, indeed. It appears the last place club could down the first place team.

It almost happened yesterday at Baltimore where the revived Colts, mired in the cellar, scared the Browns for three periods before finally succumbing, 28-20.

The victory gave Cleveland a 3-0-1 slate and moved it ahead of San Francisco's juggernaut, which was stunned by Buffalo, 26-17. San Francisco, in second place, has a 3-1-0 mark. Buffalo, fifth, is 1-2-1.

Meanwhile, the National league had two openings. The Chicago Bears destroyed the Green Bay Packers, 17-0, at Green Bay and the Pittsburgh Steelers surprised the New York Giants, 28-7, at Pittsburgh.

Baltimore, a dismal failure in four starts, led the Browns at half-time, 13-0.

But, playing like champions, the Browns rallied for three touchdowns to take a 21-13 lead in the second half. The Colts, on a Y. A. Title aerial came within one point of tying, but Edgar Jones bolted for his second score for the Browns and the ball game.

Sandy-haired George Ratterman led Buffalo to its upset win over the high-flying 49ers. His sure right arm gave off sparks, good for two touchdowns, and his mates caught fire. They piled up 221 yards on the ground to the 49ers' 133.

AKRON, Sept. 26—(INS)—The Mansfield Rangers are no longer in the ranks of the unbeaten today.

The Rangers, who had been undefeated until yesterday, fumbled during the first period of their game with the Akron Bulldogs at Akron and the Bulldogs converted it into a touchdown to win, 6-0.

ALTHOUSE NINE BEATS OLDTIMERS; MERCHANTS SPLIT

On the waning district baseball front Sunday, the Althouse Dodgers defeated their Old Timers team 16-13 in a hilarious game at Lake Placidia and the Salem Merchants split a double bill at Youngstown with the Cjerol Markets.

The games bring to a close the season at Lake Placidia, where Ernie Althouse's aggregation has completed another highly successful season.

The Merchants may still have a few games booked for the rest of the season, but most baseball activity in the area has closed for the year.

Ohio Colleges Complete Successful Weekend; Ohio University Pulls Surprise

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26—(AP)—Eleven of Ohio's college grid teams hit the highways this week end, while 10 others stand by to repel boarders, as the Bucks battle the 21 out-of-state squads in a 29-game program.

The Ohioans travel to Michigan, Kentucky, California, Pennsylvania and Virginia, while invaders will come from Indiana, Michigan, New York, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Highlighting the slate will be Ohio State's Western conference opener against Indiana, 49-6 loser to Notre Dame Saturday. Ohio showed offensive power and defensive lapses in a 35-34 win over Missouri, the victory margin being a point after touchdown.

The rugged Mid-American conference—all six members won games Saturday—gets into title play this week. Ohio University, which presented its new coach, Carroll Widdoes, with a 17-7 upset inaugural over West Virginia Saturday, invades Kalamazoo for a clash with Western Michigan, a 20-6 winner over Iowa State Teachers.

In other games involving Mid-America clubs, Cincinnati defeated Hardin-Simmons 27-21. Miami was a 23-6 victor over Wichita. Western Reserve defeated favored Kent State 23-20, and Butler whipped Evansville 24-7.

In Miami's victory over Wichita, Halfback John Pont, playing his first intercollegiate football game, sprinted 98 yards with an opening kickoff for his team's first touchdown. Pont was all-state guard at Canton Timken High school, and played halfback with San Diego Submarine raiders during the war. He is a Sophomore.

Heidelberg's student princes, unbeaten last year, warmed up with a 19-7 win over Eastern Kentucky for Saturday's Ohio conference game with Muskingum, 27-0 victor over Capital. Denison, which saw its 18-game winning streak shattered by W. & J., 15-7, gets a crack at Capital this week.

Miami and Cincinnati, despite sensational wins Saturday, have tough chores coming up. The Redskins meet Virginia at Charlottesville, while the Bearcats roll all the way across the country for a night game with college of the Pacific at Lodi, Calif.

This week's slate spreads over four days. Thursday through Sunday, with three Sabbath encounters on tap. The Sunday games send Bonaventure against Dayton, the Quantic marines against Xavier, and Steubenville at St. Vincent's (Pa.).

Xavier, showing unexpected power, dumped Dayton 21 to 7 Saturday for the Musketeers' second win. That gave Xavier 74 points for the season, best in the state. Ashland, only other two game winner, has an unsullied goal line for the best defensive record.

The Ohio clubs must win more than their share of the week's 21 interstate games to get even with the foreign foes. To date the Bucks have won eight, lost 10 and tied one in such competition.

Makes Furniture In His Spare Time

By JOE KUPKA

Some people have hobbies simply to consume their leisure time, but here's one man who makes his hobby pay.

William R. Shoop, Jr. of 362 Newgarden st., works as an apprentice carpenter at the People's Lumber Co. during the day and follows his paying avocation by working every evening and Saturday and Sunday afternoons in his little shop located on Legion alley, behind the new American Legion post.

Among the wooden articles he makes are ware boxes, modern and antique book cases, chests, lawn furniture, ottomans, kitchen cabinets and other items usually made by apprentices.

Shoop began his small business with only a saw, but now he has nine machines and accessories and expects to have up to 20 machines in the near future. He either does custom work or production on small jobs.

Makes Everything
"I make everything from ironing boards to things that fly. Business is getting better as time goes on, but work comes in spells," Shoop said.

When asked for some general comments on his avocation, Shoop said "It's interesting work and the longer you're at it, the longer you realize how much more there is to be learned."

Shoop began his wood working trade as an apprentice five years ago at the Damascus Lumber Co., which his father manages. His grandfather was a contractor and his father is a carpenter, contractor and architect estimator.

After returning from the service, Shoop worked at the Pine Shop in Grand Rapids, Mich., the heart of the furniture industry. While there, he was enrolled for six months in night school of Grand Rapids Junior college where he studied furniture history and design.

Small businesses have been known to expand and make their founder famous. Someday perhaps Shoop may realize that dream.

Says Congress Will Quit Between Oct. 15, Nov. 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — Democratic congressional leaders predicted today congress will quit for this year some time between Oct. 15 and Nov. 1.

They announced after a conference with President Truman that they will get together early next week to try for agreement on how to expedite the bills they believe should pass before adjournment.

Vice President Barkley told reporters: "There is a longing in the hearts to get back into the hinterland. We ought to quit Oct. 15 or 20, but I am just guessing. It all depends on how much talking is done on some things."

House Speaker Rayburn would make no guess, but Senator Lucas of Illinois said "We ought to get out by Nov. 1. It might be Oct. 15 or a little later."

Lucas, Senate Democratic leader, said the senate plans to take up five federal pay bills after the foreign arms aid bill is out of the way.

Bean Truck Wrecks

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24 — A truck overturned and spilled 11,264 pounds of green beans on Route 42, a half-mile south of Hauck road, early today, according to a police report.

Deputies said Harry L. Hayes, 36, Rogers, O., the driver, and his helper, James L. Hayes, 43, Akron, O., were not injured.

The truck failed to negotiate a turn and skidded about 100 feet after overturning, according to reports. Most of the beans were recovered, it added.

George W. Rogers, business manager of The News.

Illness also necessitated the absence of a lifelong associate of Mr. Brush, Ralph W. Hawley, the present publisher of The News and member of the Brush-Moore board of directors. Mr. Hawley is recuperating at City hospital.

Modern in Every Detail
The two-day housewarming gave all Salem an opportunity to inspect what is recognized as one of the most modern small city newspaper plants in the country.

Compliments were paid by newspapers from elsewhere in the state, many of whom found time Sunday to visit The News home. Some came from cities as distant as Chicago.

The exterior is of Indiana limestone and brick, the interior of fireproof structural steel and concrete finished with green-plastered walls, acoustic ceilings, asphalt tile and terrazzo floors, with birch wood counters and aluminum trim for windows and railings.

Business and editorial offices of The News are newly furnished throughout. Mechanical departments have been greatly expanded and improved for speedy and efficient production of the paper by the addition of latest model Linotype machines, stereotyping equipment and the Duplex Tubular press.

All the original land surveys around Lake Pungo in North Carolina are tied to an ancient cypress tree on the lake shore, the stump of which is still standing.

STEEL CONTRACT TALKS RESUMED

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26—(AP)—Crucial talks to head off a paralyzing nationwide steel strike Saturday began under a mantle of pessimism today.

James J. Timmes, international vice president of the CIO United Steelworkers, said flatly yesterday he sees "little chance" of the negotiations ending successfully. He did not elaborate.

Some other Steelworkers' leaders said privately they, too, were just as pessimistic as Timmes.

There was no statement from Philip Murray, president of the Steelworkers, who led the top negotiating team in talks with big U.S. Steel Corporation. And industry spokesmen kept mum.

Timmes, who usually sits with Murray at the conference table, gave his blunt and pessimistic view of the situation in a talk to officers of Steelworkers District No. 30 at Terre Haute, Ind.

"Unless we get the pension plan and social insurance we will strike Saturday," Timmes said before taking a plane for Pittsburgh. "There will be no more extension."
